

Job description

The position is ideal for goal-driven candidates preferring creative and challenging environment and tasks involving new sales, marketing strategies and acquisitions. Expect dynamic, young and daring environment with top technologies and smart biotechnology solutions.

Responsibilities

- Manage new and existing relations and achieve contracts
- Initiate new sales and marketing targets
- Manage negotiations with top-level executives
- Build rapport and establish long term relationships with customers

Qualifications

- Sales experience advantageous but not a condition
- Demonstrable achieving and creative spirit
- Strong written and verbal communication skills in Czech/Slovak language
- Good English comprehension and communication
- Biology and chemistry interest and general knowledge

Benefits

- Salary + sales commissions
- High tech environment cooperating with top research, academic and private entities
- International and local trainings
- Emphasis and support of employee's individual interests and motivations